

Niki Marin

Niki is the Founder and President of Beneath the Service, a national nonprofit dedicated to advancing the leadership journeys of the military-connected community. Her prior professional experience includes wealth management at Goldman Sachs, executive sales at Google, global strategic programs at Google's Jigsaw, and military leadership as a logistics officer in the Army.

During her time in the military, she served a combat deployment to Afghanistan where she received the Bronze Star Medal and was one of the first ceremonial qualified woman officers in the Army's longest standing Infantry unit, The Old Guard.

Niki has an MBA from the Yale School of Management, an MPA from Columbia University, an MSA from Central Michigan University, and a BS from the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, where she was an accomplished Division One tennis player. She is also a Presidential Leadership Scholar and a 2026 TEDxNaples speaker.

Niki is the proud mother of two daughters, Vera and Vida, and shares her life with her husband and partner, Leo. They live in Washington, D.C.
